CHEMISTS' CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

Membership Limited to Those Who Attain Average of
80 Per Cent

FR. STROHAVER IN CHARGE

Many Lecture and Laboratory
Privileges Will Be Extended Members

What is to be known as the "Chemists' Club" is now being organized by Fr. George F. Strohaber, S.J., Dean of Chemistry at the college. It will be restricted in membership to those who have maintained an average of 80 per cent in chemistry, and who will subsequently be invited to join.

Many advantages are expected to accrue to the members in the way of class work and in opportunities to hear lecturers of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society.

The Chemists' Club will make the third scientific society at the college, the oldest being the "Scientific Society of Holy Cross College," formed about 1908 and composed of students of Physics and Mathematics; the second being the "Mendel Club" for Biology students, which was organized in 1917. Through the co-operation of these three scientific organizations, science students will have the opportunity to absorb a speaking knowledge of the branches of science which they are not explicitly studying.

The Chemists' Club will begin with twenty-five members, and it is planned to select from these a group of lecturers, who will talk on scientific subjects in and about Worcester.

The following letter was sent by Fr. Strohaber, to those students whose scholarship was up to the required standards.

February 5, 1926.

Dear Sir:

The "Chemists' Club" of Holy Cross College is organizing. I take this occasion to invite you to become one of its pioneer members. This club is to be a very exclusive organization—the norm of exclusion being a scholarship attainment in chemistry of 80 per cent for underclass men and 75 per cent for seniors. Admission to membership will always be by invitation. By becoming a member of the club you assume no new financial obligations as the purpose of the club is to reward you for your application to the study of chemistry and not to burden you in any way whatsoever.

The advantages of membership will be many. Among others might be mentioned the fact that you will be given frequent opportunity to meet and listen to specialists in the various departments of chemistry. These gentlemen we expect to invite to Holy Cross as guests of the "Chemists' Club." You will also be given the right to attend the lectures of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society. In the laboratory work in which you happen to be engaged you will be granted special concessions and advantages; in fact if there be any particular problem that you are interested in, you will be supplied with the necessary laboratory facilities for its successful solution. Other advantages will be alluded to at

Anton Lang, Jr., To Enter Holy Cross Next September

ANTON LANG, JR.

SON OF "CHRISTUS" ENROLLS AS FRESHMAN

Rector Cables Acceptance to Anton Lang, Sr., at Oberammergau

Anton Lang, Jr., son of the famous "Christus" of the Passion Play of Oberammergau, will enter the freshman class next September. Anton Lang, Jr., has been desirous of completing his studies in this country and contemplated entering Harvard. Shortly before Christmas he was invited to continue his studies on the Hill and the letter was received on Christmas Day and the invitation accepted by his parents. Fr. Bernard Hubbard, S.J., of the California province, now at St. Andrew's-on-the-Hudson, while studying at Innsbruck near Lang's home first proposed the idea of America to the young man, and it was through Fr. Hubbard that Holy Cross was first brought to his attention. Fr. Daniel H. Sullivan, S.J., professor of physics at the College last year brought the matter to the attention of Fr. Rector.

Fr. Joseph N. Dinand, S.J., on receipt of a letter from Anton Lang, Sr., last Friday cabled that his son had been enrolled in the class of 1930 for the term beginning next September.

The following is a copy of the letter:

Villa Daheim,

Rev. Joseph N. Dinand, S.J.,
President,

College of the Holy Cross,
Worcester, Mass., U. S. A.

Rev. and Dear Father Dinand:
My son, Anton Lang, Jr., recently completed his preparatory education in the Benedictine Junior College at Ettal. It has been an ambition of my wife and myself to have one of our boys make his higher studies in America. This desire was heightened by our own personal observations during our recent happy sojourn in your great country.

Being at a loss to know where to send our boy, we wrote to some good friends in the United States about this matter. From their advices, we have come to the conclusion that the spiritual and

Contest Open to All Classes—
Essays Must be in Not Later Than April 20

It was announced Sunday by the office of the Dean that a delegation of ten or twelve students will be sent to the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago this June as the official representatives of Holy Cross college.

These men will be selected by means of a competitive essay contest which will be open to all those who have attained a scholastic standing of 70 per cent or better for the first half year.

The rules are as follows:

1. A different topic will be assigned to each of the four years; which topic will be appropriate to the class' work and standards.
2. All essays must comprise at least three thousand words and must be typewritten.
3. These essays must be in before April 20.
4. In the event of disputed merits reference will be given to those men who acquitted themselves most creditably in the mid-year examinations. The best essays will be published.

At least one man from each of the four years is assured of a place on the delegation; but a greater allotment of the places will be given to seniors, provided the members of that class show sufficient interest to justify such action.

The Holy Cross delegation will leave New York City on June 20 and will spend about one week on the trip to the Congress. It is planned to have the western alumni, many of whom will be attending the Congress, join forces with the students and thus make one large Holy Cross delegation.

In THE TOMAHAWK of January 19 there appeared an editorial exhorting the Holy Cross students to support the International Eucharistic Congress and if possible to send a delegation and thus to continue the splendid work begun when Holy Cross men went as delegates to the Martyrs' Memorial at Auriesville, N. Y., and later to the Marian Congress at Rome.

Maginnis To Lecture On Architecture Thursday

There are but two lectures scheduled for the month of February according to the announcement made last week.

On Thursday, February 11, Charles D. Maginnis will lecture in Fenwick Hall upon "Present Day Architecture of the Catholic Church in America."

Mr. Maginnis is the senior partner of the architectural firm of Maginnis and Walsh, who designed the Memorial Chapel, Loyola Hall and Holy Cross library, now in the course of construction. He has been a public lecturer for years and, talking as he

LAFFIN TO LEAD GLEE CLUB NEXT SATURDAY

Easter Schedule Includes Trips to New York and Montclair, New Jersey

Under the able tutelage of Thomas P. Laffin, '26, the intercollegiate group of the Glee Club has been engaging in strenuous practice for the intercollegiate contest on Saturday. Laffin is the manager of the Holy Cross Musical Clubs, and will assume the position of student director in the coming trials. He has been engaged in solo and quartet work since his freshman year, and is the possessor of a rich tenor voice of great beauty.

The members of the Glee Club have been working on the mechanics of the selections for the past three weeks, and an extensive schedule of rehearsals has been mapped out in order to give Professor J. Edward Bouvier, M.A., an opportunity to perfect the interpretation and polish up the rendition of the numbers. Nine colleges will compete for the honor of going to New York for the national finals in March. The contest is under the auspices of the New England College Glee Club Contest Association and will be broadcast by stations WEEL, WAC, and WBZ. The students are urged to attend the contest, and ticket applications may be had from Mr. Sloane, S.J., or from Mr. F. A. Simmons, 24 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

The proposed pre-Lenten trip has been cancelled, and instead the Musical Clubs will continue their charity work, in which they have made an enviable reputation. In accordance with precedent of former years, a tentative charity schedule has been drawn up for Lent, and concerts will be given at St. Vincent's Hospital, the State Sanitarium at Rutland, and various churches and institutions in and around Worcester.

The Easter Trip of the Musical Clubs will probably open on April 8, when the Clubs will appear at Montclair, N. J., under the auspices of Fr. Edward M. Farrell, '00, and on April 9 (tentative) the Clubs will go to Brooklyn under the auspices of the Catholic Teachers' League of Brooklyn, directed by Fr. Murphy, '00.

Play Produced at Worcester
Theatre Last Night Before
Capacity House

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA
TO ACCOMPANY CAST

Two Dress Rehearsals Held in Fenwick Hall on Saturday Last

The cast of "Twelfth Night," with a retinue of stagehands and property men, together with the college orchestra departed this morning for South Hadley Falls, where the production will make its final bow this evening. Endorsed by the plaudits of an appreciative Worcester audience, the production took away with it this morning a confidence which should be instrumental in its success tonight.

The performance at the Worcester Theatre last evening was witnessed by a capacity house and the efforts of the cast were most admirably received.

Pre-eminent in the favor of the audience was the acting of Edward J. McGratty, '28, whose conception and interpretation of the haughty Malvolio were a bit of fine histrionics. His diction, gesticulation and dramatic presence marked him from the outset as the bright light of the evening.

The Viola of Paul M. Quinn, '29, drew its share of favorable comment, as did the antics of Sir Toby Belch, John J. Verdon, '26, and Sir Andrew Aguecheek, William F. Berghold, '26. Paul Quinn in his first year in Holy Cross dramatic circles shows considerable promise as an actor, and his impersonation of Viola was natural and well conceived.

Other first year men who distinguished themselves were Edward F. O'Rourke, who took the role of Duke Orsino; John J. Larkin, Sea Captain, and Harry J. Tuttle, who played the intriguing Maria with a natural gracefulness seldom seen on the amateur stage.

Feste as interpreted by William J. Butler, '27, was probably the most distinctive characterization in the play, as much from the clever handling on the part of the man who played it, as from the animation that Shakespeare wrote into the lines.

The Countess Olivia, John R. Walsh, '27, beautifully featured and artistically gowned, immediately attracted the audience. Her stately demeanor brought just that touch of hauteur that is necessary to make Olivia a finished portrayal.

The business personnel includes Martin J. Prendergast, Jr., '26, general manager; William F. Hebert, Jr., '27, assistant; Walter J. Cuskley, '27, master of costumes; Thomas W. Barry, '27, stage manager; Francis M. McInerney, '27, John J. McInerney, '27, J. Ward Wallace, '27, Robert A. Lilly, '27, John G. O'Connor, '27, assistants; James W. McCarthy, '26, master of properties.

At the Worcester Theatre the following acted as the reception committee: John F. Crowley, James F. Fallon, John T. McGillicuddy, Warren P. Cote, Adrian P. Burke, Walter M. Mulvihill, Herbert J. Kelley, Francis

HELLO!

The practice of saying a cheery "Hello" to our fellow-students, whether or not we have the undoubted advantage of a personal introduction, seems, most regretably, to be dying out. Dut to what, we neither know nor care, the fact remains that a custom which is as beneficial as it is venerable and which is essentially connected with the Holy Cross spirit of democracy and camaraderie is gradually passing from the Hill. It is a shameful, but a necessary thing to have to mention this fact.

We speak strongly because we feel strongly. The time is well within the remembrance of the upper classmen when it was not possible to meet a Holy Cross man without receiving and returning the cheerful salute that demonstrated the fact that we have no distinctions of class or riches on the Hill, that every man is as good as his fellow-student, and finally that we are merged together in one big body ready to face anything for the "Cross." That is the very thing that means "Holy Cross Spirit." It is the touchstone of the Cross' democracy. Let us not allow it to pass.

We rest the blame for this fact on no man's nor any class' shoulders. The remedy is what we seek. Therefore, let every student on the Hill resolve that he will no longer pass his fellow-student without giving that time-honored salute. When the freshmen see an upper classman let them not pass him by in glum silence as if the weight of the world were resting on their bosoms; and so with the other classes. Let us resolve to make Holy Cross' proud boast—her democracy—be a real living thing, not a mere term. Let us effect a greater and even greater feeling of good-fellowship toward each other; and let us again hear, in sunshine or in rain, in light or in darkness, the cheery "Hello" ring down the lane, proclaiming the fact that we are all united for Holy Cross and for Holy Cross spirit.

A CATHOLIC DAILY NEWSPAPER

It is of interest to note that the present month is now generally looked upon as the "Catholic Press" month, during which the attention of the Catholic world is directed to Catholic periodicals. In a recent issue of a widely-read publication the editor takes occasion to comment on this fact and it is indeed worthy of notice. The number of Catholic magazines has greatly increased during the past few years. Mission magazines, short stories and weekly or monthly reviews have been established and are flourishing, with the result that people are becoming more and more familiar with the Catholic viewpoint regarding questions of national and international importance.

The one feature which is lacking is a Catholic daily newspaper. While weekly reviews contain news in a comprehensive style, yet the average person obtains most of his information on current topics from his perusal of the daily newspaper. Certainly in some of our larger cities such a venture would prove profitable as well as instructive. In addition some of the objectionable features of the metropolitan and other newspapers which arouse much unfavorable comment could be eliminated.

To a graduate of a Catholic college, especially if he is interested in journalism, this question of a Catholic daily newspaper should greatly appeal. That there is a wide field open to him who cares to enter it no one will deny, and it would occasion no surprise to see, in the near future, the beginnings of this undertaking which has almost unlimited possibilities for advancement and progress. With the education that a student receives in a Catholic college and with the large number of successful journalists who are Catholic college graduates, there is no reason why the Catholic college alumnus could not successfully conduct a daily newspaper in which the news is treated from a Catholic standpoint.

Alumni Notes

CORRECTION

In the TOMAHAWK of February 2 appeared an alumni note to the effect that Cornelius D. Mahoney, '18, was married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Mattingly on the 25th of November at Baltimore, Md. Mr. Mahoney's name was in some way substituted for the name of James J. Connelly, '20.

MGR. O'BRIEN VISITS COLLEGE

Mgr. Michael T. O'Brien, '85, of Great Falls, Montana, visited the college a few days ago and spent quite some time with the President, remarking at the changed aspect of his Alma Mater.

He promised to procure, if possible, a real tomahawk from the Indians on the reservation in Montana, and forward it as a trophy for THE TOMAHAWK sanctum sanctorum. He also offered to send a bracelet given him by an Indian squaw, which could be handed down by each editor-in-chief to his successor.

The difference in the New England and the Montana winters is considerable, according to Mgr. O'Brien, for in Montana, there is very little snow, and what does fall, is often melted by the following day. He also interestingly related how the ranchers, after what is known as a "Chinook" wind, have to bring hay out to the cattle. The wind, freezing what little snow might be on the ground, prevents the cows from grazing, for unlike horse and sheep, a cow will not paw through the ice-crust to get at the grass beneath.

BUGHOUSE BEDTIME STORIES—Series II.

OUT OF THE NORTH

By JAMES OLIVER CURFEW

(This one will run cold shivers down your back.)

CHAPTER I

Coles Phil Liptz, the man whose paintings for hosiery ads has sold more popular magazines to college men than any other single factor, stood, head aslant, before a blank canvas. Just behind the easel a model posed a pair of seamless, silken ankles; and at the artist's back several Critics sat, their frayed cuffs and sneers showing.

Coles Phil Liptz touched his brush to the white, taut weave just once and the Critics sat up with a start. An idealized portrait of a pair of sheer silk hose illumined the canvas!

"Marvelous!" gasped the Critics, "Marvelous!" And one said:

"Coles Phil Liptz—you must know more about hosiery than any man who ever lived!"

"Ah, no," said Coles Phil Liptz, turning to the speaker with a sad smile, "there is another who knows even more of hosiery than do I!"

"Who?" "Who?" demanded the Critics, "Who?"

"Santa Claus!" said Coles Phil Liptz, splendid in his humility.

CHAPTER II

It was the night before Christmas. By an odd coincidence—and what coincidence is not odd, patient reader?—it was also December 24 and Christmas Eve. Santa Claus was lashing his reindeer across great, snowy expanses of City Halls, Y. M. C. A.'s, Elks' Homes, A. A. Cafeterias, and the like, in the traditional manner. All at once,

"Whoa!" shouted Santa Claus.

"Ho-ho!" shouted the reindeer, at an undiminished gallop, for it was no night to stand about in the cold. Still, the victor of a billion chimneys, not to mention new contrivances in the way of gas and electric heaters, was not thus easily thwarted. Reaching out he knocked off a reindeer's ear-muff and immediately the entire six or eight animals came to a halt.

"Now, will you be good," gloated Santa as he blew his nose, this latter being his object in stopping. Next he set about adjusting the ear-muff in its original position. In so doing, however, his ribs came into contact with one of the points on the reindeer's horns and it tickled him poignantly.

"Haw-haw-haw!" bellowed Santa, and forthwith a big wind was set up by this unwonted outburst which blew off Santa's whiskers. Whereupon, the eldest of the reindeer, turning to the others, said:

"Now, what'd I tell you? There ain't no Santa Claus; it's daddy!"

CHAPTER III

Robin Hood cast himself down on a bed of velvet moss with a dull clank. Thinking of his daughter, Little Red Riding Hood, he was in a quandary. A Christmas present for her was impossible; Robin simply didn't have the money. He realized that it is the duty of every married man to do his best to keep the wolf from the door, but he also knew that, were he to do so, Little Red Riding Hood and the wolf would never meet, and a perfectly good fairy tale would be ruined. Meanwhile, the little girl in question was sitting on the floor of Hood's cozy woodland cottage reading True Stories, (a MacFadden publication) with rapt devotion and furtive titters. Suddenly she started up!

"What big ears you have, grandma!" said Little Red Riding Hood as her mother's mother entered with a new boyish bob.

CHAPTER IV

At last Robin Hood made his decision! He would go to Little Red Riding Hood; ask her what she desired for Christmas, and secure it for her by whatever means possible. This he did.

"What dost thou desire, Little Red Riding Hood, above all things for thy gladder Michaelmas?" he asked.

"What do I want for Christmas, Pop?" paraphrased the little one. She thought a moment. Then,

"A college boy!" she said and her gum snapped with precision and éclat. Robin Hood started back. Then, without a word, he went and, raising the latch, let in the Wolf, whom he had not been able to keep from the door. But what the wolf justly did to Little Red Riding Hood the canons of art prevent me from telling you.

Frederick J. Dietzman, '94, Gives History of Alumni Association

Duties of Alumni Secretary Also Treated of in Article in "America"

In an article written for "America" last week, Frederick J. Dietzman, '94, gives the history of the Alumni Association and the various clubs that have branched out from the general association. Mr. Dietzman is the general alumni secretary and has held that office since September, 1924, when the office was established. He is also in charge of the employment service both for the alumni and undergraduates.

The article as it appeared in "America" follows in full:

ORGANIZED ALUMNI Frederick J. Dietzman

Holy Cross College was founded in the year 1843 by the Right Rev. Benedict Joseph Fenwick, second Bishop of Boston, who gave it the name of his cathedral, with the motto and emblem of the Boston diocese—a cross in the heavens, as it appeared to the Emperor Constantine, with the historic legend "in hoc signo vinces."

The progress of the college in the beginning, as regards educational facilities and number of students, was slow. The value of keeping up an alumni spirit, however, was recognized early.

In the year 1869, when the graduates numbered but 92, an organization called the Holy Cross College Alumni Association had its inception. Its purpose was to cultivate a deep and abiding affection for Alma Mater; to instill into the graduates an impelling desire to promote and advance her ideals and interests; and to establish a close union of all those who had this affection and interest.

Holy Cross men have lived up to these high ideals. The number of graduates who show their love for and interest in their alma mater by helping her in every way and who attend the general meeting and banquet at the college on the afternoon and evening preceding Commencement Day, in June of each year, has increased proportionately to the growth of the college. Several hundred former students now attend the general meetings.

As the years succeeded one another, however, and the number of graduates increased, the need of meeting more frequently than once a year became apparent and we find the alumni organizing in different places. The alumni in Connecticut in 1896 founded the Connecticut Alumni Association of the College of the Holy Cross and in 1898 the Worcester County Alumni Association of the College of the Holy Cross was organized.

Up to 1900 the graduates numbered 719 and the alumni associations three—one General Association and two branch associations. The progress of the college was more rapid during the succeeding years. During the decade, 1900-1909, the alumni, responding to an appeal for a new dormitory and class rooms, built in 1905 Alumni Hall; the number of students graduated totaled 437; and the following clubs and associations were organized: Bristol County Alumni Association (1900), Berkshire County Alumni Association (1903), Holy Cross College Club of New York (1906), Holy Cross College Club of Northeastern Pennsylvania (1906), Holy Cross College Club of Boston (1907), Holy Cross College Club of Rhode Island (1908), and the Holy Cross College Club of Philadelphia (1908).

During the next decade, 1910-1919, another addition to the college buildings was made. This building, erected in 1913, is known as "Beaven Hall" and is the generous gift of the late Right Rev. Thomas D. Beaven, D.D., of the class of 1870, and the clergy of the Springfield, Mass. diocese. The number of students who received degrees during this period was 885 and the following clubs and associations were formed: Connecticut Valley Association of Holy Cross Alumni (1911), Holy Cross College Club of Lowell (1913), Holy Cross College Alumni Association of Central and Western New York (1915), Holy Cross College Club of Plymouth County (1915), Holy Cross College Club of Eastern New York (1916), and the South Atlantic Holy Cross College Club (1918).

During the six-year period, 1920-1925 (inclusive), two buildings, Loyola Hall (1922), and St. Joseph's Chapel (1924)—a monument to Holy Cross men who paid the supreme sacrifice for their country—were erected; 932 students were graduated; and the following association and club were organized: the Maine Holy Cross College Alumni Association (1920), and the Holy Cross College Club of Vermont (1921).

Thus, at the end of the scholastic year 1925, the graduates numbered 2973 and the associations: one General Association and 17 branch associations or clubs. The non-graduates (young men who studied at Holy Cross for one year at least and left in good standing and signified their desire to be included among the alumni) numbered 2200. The present list of surviving graduates and non-graduates contains the names and records of 2500 graduates and 2090 non-graduates, a total of 4590.

The work of keeping the records was performed by college officials up to September, 1924, when the Office of the Alumni Secretary was opened at the college with a full-time resident secretary in charge. The opening of this office was found necessary, in view of the rapid increase in the number of students, which now taxes to capacity the facilities of the college, and the increasing volume of correspondence due to keeping in closer touch with alumni activities and the opening of an employment service. The fact that 1100 Catholic young men applied for entrance last September and that 350 only were admitted, owing to lack of accommodations, shows how the facilities of the college are taxed. The senior class numbers 201 members; the junior, 235; the sophomore, 288; and the freshman, 368 members; a total of 1092 students.

The following are some of the important functions of the office of the Alumni Secretary:

1. Keeping exact records of every alumnus—both graduate and non-graduate—his date of birth; date of entering and leaving the college; degree obtained; addresses: home, business, mailing and permanent; occupation; payment of dues; and other pertinent data.
2. Maintaining an employment service both for the alumni and the undergraduates.
3. Publishing annually the Alumni Bulletin, which contains the names, addresses, occupations, etc., of all graduates and non-graduates.
4. Collecting of all dues.
5. Keeping record of all alumni activities; sending out notices of all meetings; making all arrangements for class and other reunions on the day and evening before Commencement Day, etc.

From the foregoing short history of alumni organization at Holy Cross College, it can be seen that the college officials from the beginning recognized the necessity of keeping accurate records of the students and graduates and of developing among the graduates an alumni spirit. To this care and foresight may be attributed the success attained.

A wonderful spirit of loyalty has been built up among the alumni. That this is a fact is evidenced in the willingness and eagerness with which Holy Cross men aid in furthering the interests of their alma mater. As examples of this spirit, mention may be made of the drive in the year 1920, organized and directed by the alumni, which netted the college $700,000 and from the proceeds of which the Memorial Chapel and Loyola Hall were erected; of the annual trips of the Dramatic Club, Glee Club, Orchestra and Band, arrangements for which are made in conjunction with the different Holy Cross College clubs and associations in the various cities visited; of the gifts and scholarships given to the college; of the manner in which the various clubs and associations act as hosts to the various Holy Cross College athletic teams when they visit their cities; and of the aid rendered to the new employment service department of the Alumni Office in sending in notice of positions obtainable.

To the care of the college officials and to the co-operation of the alumni is the success attained at Holy Cross due.

J. MARSHALL TO HEAD POLICY COMMITTEE

The senior class, in discussing the matter of an endowment policy to be presented to the college, elected James J. Marshall, '26, chairman of a committee to gather information concerning the plan. Mr. Marshall received eighty-seven votes as against his opponents, Louis P. Champagne, James J. McLoughlin and Thomas B. King, who polled twenty-eight, twenty and twelve votes, respectively.

At the urge of many of the members of the class, nominations for the office of Senior Ball chairman were held. Those nominated are Messrs.: John J. Kane, Thomas F. Delaney, Paul C. Hettinger, Thomas W. Walsh, Lewis J. Hanifin, William J. Hurley and Edward B. Conway.

When it's a rainy night—and with three crafty bridge players your luck is running wild—have a Camel!

WHEN the dark skies are pouring rain outside. And fickle fate deals you hands at bridge that you play with consummate skill—have a Camel!

For Camel is the silent partner that helps every deserving player win his game. Camels never hurt or tire the taste, never leave a trace of cigaret after-taste. Regardless of the gold you spend, you'll never get choicer tobaccos than those rolled into Camels.

So this evening as you ply your unerring skill, evoke then the mellowest fragrance that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Camels represent the utmost in cigarette quality. The choicest of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are blended into Camels by master blenders and the finest of French cigarette paper is made especially for them. Into this one brand is concentrated all of the knowledge, all of the skill of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

Elaborate Entertainment Planned For H. C. Night By "Bill" Glennon

Rt. Rev. John C. Murray, '97, and W. F. O'Neil Unable to Attend

William F. (Bill) Glennon, '26, football and baseball star, is preparing plans for the annual observance of Holy Cross Night, February 25. In accordance with the custom of selecting a prominent athlete as marshal for the event, Glennon was elected to the post by the senior class.

The Rt. Rev. John C. Murray, '97, bishop of Portland, and William F. O'Neil, manager of the Holy Cross football team in 1907, wired their regrets that they would not be able to attend.

Invitations to speak have been accepted by three graduates of the college who this year were elected to the office of mayor in their respective cities. Mayor Michael I. Shea of Chicopee, Mayor William M. Welch of Northampton, and Mayor Gregory J. Scanlon of Holyoke.

An elaborate entertainment will follow a banquet which will be held in the college dining hall from whence the scene of activity will shift to the college auditorium. Thomas P. Laffin, '26, tenor soloist for the musical clubs, is in charge of arrangements. Among those who will appear in the program are Warren P. Cote, '26, Joseph A. Morrissey, '26, Daniel E. Reardon, '28, Henry P. Healey, '27, William J. O'Leary, '26, and Adolphus D. Brissette, '27.

Holy Cross Night is in the nature of a get-together for the students and graduates.

The assistant marshals include John J. Crowley, captain of the football team, Warren P. Cote, captain of the baseball nine, and Edward J. Reid.

The reception committee is composed of Francis J. Porcella, Francis S. O'Connor, Daniel F. Cohalan and Adam J. Schwartz, Jr. The decoration committee includes Charles S. Walsh, Harry J. Smith, Arthur F. Ray and John M. Lynch. The entertainment committee consists of James R. Lonergan, Hugh F. McLaughlin, John J. Kane and Thomas H. Foley.

will be upon his own profession, should present an interesting and instructive discourse. The lecture is especially opportune to those men attending the course on architecture which was started this quarter by Fr. J. F. X. Murphy, S.J.

On Friday, February 26, Fr. Paul L. Blakely, S.J., noted Jesuit and associate editor of the Jesuit publication "America," will give a talk to the undergraduates on the subject "Intolerance."

Such a subject treated by a man of the marked ability and knowledge of Fr. Blakely cannot help but be interesting to Catholic college men.

DR. MEIKLEJOHN AT UNIV. OF WISCONSIN

Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, former president of Amherst College, has been appointed to a post in the philosophy department of the University of Wisconsin. He will begin his work there at the start of the second semester, February 8.

Dr. Meiklejohn's position at the university was made possible by the establishment of an extra professorship in the philosophy department by the late Thomas E. Brittingham. The former Amherst head was in Madison for several days in conference with Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the Badger institution. From 1901 to 1912 he was dean of Brown and at the end of that time he took over the presidency of Amherst. He resigned in 1923 and has not held a scholastic position since, passing his time in lecturing.

John Drinkwater Criticises U. S.

Says Americans Are Drifting
Toward Standardized
Mental Habits

John Drinkwater, English poet and dramatist, now traveling in the United States, sends back to England his impressions of America and Americans, according to the New York Times.

He criticizes the tendency of the majority of Americans towards mental standardization, and states:

"In many essential things America is magnificently right, but of its 110,000,000 people about 105,000,000—the 5,000,000 exception make a sufficiently imposing aristocracy of mind—are drifting by some uncanny telepathic process into a standardization of mental habits. And the habit is not in itself a good one.

"It is pertinaciously founded on tedious generalizations. It should be said that the limitation is almost entirely one of thought, not of life. Life in America is vivid, immensely varied, full of achieving energy and sparkling with a natural wit that can hardly be found among any of the older and perhaps more tired peoples.

"Although the majority of Americans allow their thought to become curiously monotonous in contrast with the vigorous onsets of their lives," he continues.

"Once you get an individual American away from abstraction you find in about three cases out of four his life has been a romance. Not merely a romance of spiritual adventure, but a romance of external adventure."

FIVE VACANCIES IN H. C. KNIGHTS CLASS

Due to the withdrawal of some of the students from school, the class for admission to the K. of C. has lost a few candidates and their places are now open for any who may wish to join this class. The committee have places for five more candidates. If you are eager to become a member of the Knights of Columbus, this is the time to join as the class will be composed of students alone. Submit your name at once, and the fee will not be required until later. In order to have anyone join this class it will be necessary to have all names at once.

At a meeting of the State Deputies in Worcester last Sunday, special mention was made of the coming class from Holy Cross. Alhambra Council is making wonderful progress in plans for their Carnival which will be held during April, and the parishes report great enthusiasm among their workers. The musical talent of Holy Cross is lending its services in the various parishes to make the Carnival a success.

Any member of the Third Degree who has been a member for a period of not less than two years is eligible for the Fourth Degree which will take place in April. This degree will be the only Fourth Degree to be exemplified in the state of Massachusetts for the coming year, and candidates from all parts of the state will be represented at this degree.

SON OF "CHRISTUS" ENROLLS AS FRESHMAN

intellectual advancement of our son would be assured at Holy Cross College. And so I am desirous of entering my son, Anton Lang, Jr., in your college, beginning next fall. I have been told that he has sufficient credits to meet the entrance requirements of Holy Cross College. To make sure, I am enclosing certificates of scholarship awarded Anton, Jr., at Ettal. I am also including testimonials of character from local authorities. If these are satisfactory, and you approve of my application, please have my son's name registered for the fall semester.

Assuring you that Mrs. Lang and I shall experience great happiness by your admission of our son to Holy Cross College, and promising you, in such an event, our wholehearted co-operation, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

ANTON LANG.

Young Lang is the second son of the man who has become world famous through his immortal characterization of the leading role in the Passion Play and is himself an actor of ability as his portrayal of a minor part in the same play testifies. Great things have been predicted for him by the thousands of tourists from all parts of the world who have witnessed the renowned players of Oberammergau stage their great picturization of the Passion and Death of Christ. It is a general opinion among the residents of the little Bavarian town that Anton, Jr., is destined to succeed his father in the portrayal of "Christus" in the play.

Besides his ability as an actor, Lang is an accomplished musician and plays first violin in the orchestra that furnishes the music for the famous presentation.

Proposed Jesuit Science Course More Comprehensive in Scope

Despite the fact that such impending honors are in store for him Lang has manifested a strong love for all out of door life and is said to be an all-round athlete. In the Benedictine Junior College at Ettal, where he recently completed his preparatory course, Lang was conceded to be the best soccer player in the school. In addition to this he is the champion ski artist of his native town, where his prowess in climbing some of the loftiest mountain peaks in the vicinity is well known to the residents. He has the distinction of having scaled Weiss See Spitze and Flucht Kogel peaks, each being over 12,000 feet in height. These remarkable feats he accomplished after 16 hours of strenuous climbing. He is 20 years old, stands five feet ten inches, and has a sturdy physique.

As a student, Lang has maintained a continual high average in his classes and speaks English fluently. Upon the completion of his studies in this country, Lang plans to return home and join the faculty of the University of Munich, as Professor of English.

Souvenir Programs Of Norris Lecture On Sale

Souvenir programs of the lecture delivered by Kathleen Norris in Worcester on January 29, under the auspices of the Holy Cross College Lecture Course, may be secured at the college for the price of ten cents each. All those who purchase one of these programs will be afforded an opportunity of winning one of the five copies that were autographed by Mrs. Norris. The proceeds of the sale are to go toward the establishment of a shelf in the new library.

Plan Will Establish Uniform Science Course in All Jesuit Colleges

Below appears the Bachelor of Science course schedule proposed early in January by the delegated professors of science and mathematics of the New York-Maryland Province and the New England Vice-province, at a meeting held at St. Francis Xavier's, New York.

This plan was drawn up so that there would be a uniform science course in all Jesuit colleges. It consists essentially of a more intensive and comprehensive study of the sciences. Courses in general will be much more elective, as the students will be allowed to choose their majors.

The plan has yet to meet with the approval of the Deans, Regional Directors and Rev. Provincials before going into effect, but it is anticipated that the course will be begun at the opening of the scholastic year 1926-1927.

The meeting was presided over by Fr. George Strohaver, S.J., president of the Association of Jesuit Science Teachers, and Dean of Chemistry here, and was attended by Rev. Francis M. Connell, chairman, ex officio; Rev. J. Assmuth, Rev. W. W. Logue, and Rev. R. Martin, of Fordham University; Rev. F. J. Dore, Rev. A. J. Hohman, Rev. D. J. Lynch of Boston College; Rev. D. J. Mahoney and Rev. G. F. Strohaver of Holy Cross College; Rev. M. J. Ahearn, Rev. T. H. Miley and Rev. C. E. Shaffery of St. Joseph's College; Rev. G. L. Coyle, Rev. J. L. Gippich and Rev. F. A. Tondorf of Georgetown University; Rev. J. A. Frisch and Rev. T. J. Love of Canisius College; Rev. W. Crawford and Rev. J. J. Sullivan of Loyola College; Rev. H. M. Brock and Rev. J. A. Brosnan of the House of Philosophy, Weston.

History Academy Planned And Will Form Student Lecture Bureau

Demand for Student Lectures Prompts Formation of New Society

The Department of History plans the formation of an history academy which, in its general scope, will include the three upper classes, and which will provide for the establishment of a student lecture bureau at Holy Cross.

Various requests have been made to the college by Knights of Columbus Councils and different parishes in the vicinity of Worcester for speakers to address their gatherings on subjects pertaining to the Catholic viewpoint on history and current affairs.

It is the purpose of this academy to foster an interest in history in the students and to equip and send out its members to lecture on such subjects to Catholic groups. These men will be selected by competitive work from those who show interest and promise in the academy and who are capable of taking the platform.

The academy, for the sake of convenience, will be divided into three groups, one for each of the three upper classes and will be open to all students of history in those classes. Each group will contribute to the staff of lecturers to enable sophomores, juniors and seniors to derive the same benefits from the work.

It is a decided innovation and, if carried out with success, can develop into an organization whose benefits will far surpass many other activities in the opportunities offered for practical experience to those interested in public speaking.

FR. STROHAVER WILL ADDRESS MENDEL CLUB

Dr. Michael F. Fallon, '84, K.S.G., sole honorary president of the Mendel Club since the death of John Taylor Bottomley, was unable to address the club last Thursday, because it was impossible for an automobile to climb the hill on account of the snowdrifts. Dr. Fallon will lecture some time in the near future, the exact date of which will be announced later.

At the next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday at 8.30 p. m., in the Biology lecture room, Fr. George P. Strohaever, S.J., dean of the chemistry department, will address the club. The subject of Fr. Strohaever's lecture will be "Chemistry of Nutrition."

EXPECT STORIES FROM FORMER H. C. STARS

Tomahawk Solicits Reports of Experiences of Former Athletes

Letters have recently been mailed to various members of the alumni body who are now active in professional athletics, coaching, etc., asking them to prepare for THE TOMAHAWK, articles stating their views upon college and professional athletics.

Among the seventy-five or so, who are thus engaged, and to whom letters are being mailed, are "Ownie" Carroll, "Doc" Gautreau, "Leo" Larivee, "Joe" Tierney, "Jigger" Statz, "Rosey" Ryan, and others. We hope to receive and publish answers to these letters in the near future.

Following is a copy of the letter sent out:

Dear Sir:

THE TOMAHAWK plans, during the winter months and thereafter, to publish feature articles, written by some of the graduates who have become prominent in professional athletics, coaching, etc.

These stories will be written by each individual and appear under his name.

Your experiences in athletics since your graduation, your impressions of professional sports, your advice to present college athletes, and even some of the outstanding incidents you experienced when at Holy Cross, would make a very interesting and valuable story for the undergraduates, the alumni, and the daily press. As to the length of your article, use your own judgment.

With best wishes for your continued success, and for a "bigger and better" Holy Cross, we remain,

Very truly yours,

THE TOMAHAWK.

Richard T. Langan, '26,

Editor-in-Chief.

H. C. DELEGATES WILL ATTEND CONGRESS

This generous offer on the part of president and faculty is the direct result of this editorial; only, instead of the one official representative advocated by THE TOMAHAWK, Holy Cross will have a delegation of ten or twelve undergraduates.

This delegation will be but a minute part of the millions of devout Catholics and curious non-Catholics who will be the guests of Chicago for the twenty-eighth International Eucharistic Congress, the first to be held in the United States and only the second to be held in America. In 1910, the first Congress which was held in America convened in Montreal where upwards of 700,000 visitors were in attendance.

The ceremonies this year will be held on the Seminary grounds of Mundelein, Ill., a town named for the Catholic cardinal of Chicago. It is planned to have the entire attendance at the Congress receive Holy Communion on the first day of the ceremonies, which will necessitate conscripting 2000 outside priests to aid in the great work.

PRESIDENT'S SISTER DONOR TO LIBRARY

Miss Anna T. Dinand of Dorchester, Mass., sister of Fr. Joseph N. Dinand, S.J., the president of the college, has presented a new edition of the Catholic Encyclopedia to the Library. These volumes will be placed in Junior A classroom temporarily, to be used for reference work by that class. But upon completion of the Library, they will be transferred to the regular Reference Library. The set is of the latest revision and is handsomely bound in black leather.

To augment the collection he formerly donated, Mr. Enalls Byre, Philadelphia, has contributed two splendid volumes of history. They treat of the American Revolution as seen from a European standpoint.

The latest developments in hydroelectric power production are embodied in a volume entitled "Niagara in Politics," presented by the American Electric Corporation.

The remodeling of Mr. Foster Stearns' temporary office, which is located directly opposite the office of the Rector's secretary, is nearing completion. Here Mr. Stearns will be situated until the opening of his new offices in the Library.

The work of cataloguing which started in the early summer, is still in progress. While this catalogue will not be open to the students for the present, it is an invaluable aid in the selection of new volumes and will also serve as a basis for the dictionary catalogue in the new Library.

N. Y. ALUMNI TO HOLD BANQUET AT YALE CLUB

The Holy Cross Club of New York will hold an alumni dinner on Thursday, February 11, in the Yale Club, New York City. Invitations have been sent out by Dr. Peter J. Dulligan, President of the club to Foster W. Stearns, librarian of the college, and Mr. Theodore T. Ellis. In connection with this affair the club is making a new departure in sending invitations to the members of the Fathers' Club living in the vicinity. Mr. J. Edward Bouvier, Director of the Musical Clubs, and the quartet from the Glee Club will attend.

FENTON REPLY TO BURBANK CRITISED

"Church Has Made Opera of Life and Death of Jesus," Says Critic

The following is a copy of a letter in the Springfield Union of Friday, February 5, in which Joseph C. Fenton's reply to the statements of Luther Burbank are criticized. The letter follows in part:

To the Editor of The Union:

Sir: The attacks on Luther Burbank by Christians of various denominations are proof to me that organized Christianity is a failure. There are hundreds of thousands of persons who think as Mr. Burbank does about religious matters.

The "most unkindest" attack on Mr. Burbank that I have read comes from Joseph C. Fenton of Springfield, a senior at Holy Cross College—Holy Cross, mind you, and a Joseph, names synonymous with better things than attacking a kindly old gentleman who has wrought more miracles in his lifetime than the church has performed in 1500 years.

The church has made an opera of the life and death of Jesus of Nazareth—grand opera, perhaps, and no doubt worth the money paid to see the performance; and some sects have made a farce of it.

If the man-made God who condemns some of his children to hell frowns on the "gentleman farmer" of Santa Barbara, I have no doubt that the goddess Flora smiles on his efforts, and the success of his labors, whispering to him her secret. When Mr. Fenton defends the Jesuit theses on philosophy he will not forget to explain why the Jesuits were expelled from France and from Spain. I am for Luther Burbank and his philosophy of life, rather than for the arts, principles and practices of the Jesuits.

CHARLES PHILLIPS,

Stafford, Conn., Feb. 4, 1926.

Mr. Fenton will reply to this letter, probably in the next edition of THE TOMAHAWK. In his reply Mr. Fenton will tell all about the goddess Flora. He will also give the reasons why the Jesuits were driven out of France and Spain, and in fact out of almost every other country in Europe.

On Sunday, April 11, the Glee Club will sing the High Mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, displacing the professional choir for the occasion an honor which no other college has ever had. That evening a private concert will be given for the Catholic Club of New York, at their club rooms. On April 12, a concert will be given under the auspices of the New York Alumni, at the Plaza Hotel in New York. Plans are being made now to broadcast both this concert and the Mass in the Cathedral. On April 13, the Clubs will go to New Haven or to Bridgeport, and on April 22, they will go to Southbridge. The joint concert with Boston College in Symphony Hall will take place on April 26.

Lack of Alumni Co-operation With Student and Alumni News Organ Evident

To the Editor:—

If I may be permitted to intrude upon the editorial business of constructing the weekly edition, I would like to call your attention to a very pertinent problem with which THE TOMAHAWK is confronted. As you know, THE TOMAHAWK was started one year ago this month—its first birthday will be February 17, and since that time it has grown wonderfully. Every one who reads it, sincerely likes it; it has attained a high standard among collegiate newspapers—and that position we mean to maintain.

The one problem, of which I speak, is the seeming apathy and indifference of the Alumni to this newspaper which we are publishing principally for them. Last year, the circulation department mailed to everyone on the Alumni Secretary's stencil list one copy of THE TOMAHAWK. There was very little response to appeals for subscriptions. We were not entirely disappointed, because we reasoned that a newspaper in its early days rarely sells like Florida real estate. I tell you frankly, though, we had high hopes for this year's subscription list. But we were mistaken badly in our estimation. Today, the paid subscription list, exclusive of the students, does not exceed two hundred.

We are publishing an eight-page edition this week, and I suggest that we send another broadside of them into the ranks of the Alumni. Taking for granted that many of these men are engrossed in a multitude of interests, I would like to see some active men in each section overcome their humility to such an extent as to urge their former classmates to become affiliated with the Hill again by simply paying $2.50.

Organized alumni clubs should be particularly interested in this. The New York City men have been very decent in promoting interest, and we hope that others will stand by us in the same way. The business department of THE TOMAHAWK will gladly co-operate with any clubs or individuals who have the interest of Holy Cross at heart and are anxious to see this newspaper prosper. From many sources we have had reports that THE TOMAHAWK filled a long-felt want. Certainly, it has given Holy Cross the best publicity that it has received in years.

The financial prosperity of a newspaper depends principally on its advertising revenue; but as the selling of advertising is based on circulation, we are hindered on all sides by the meager number of subscribers. Until we can increase this roster, our appeal to advertisers, especially national advertisers, must be rather weak.

I earnestly and sincerely trust that we may arouse a real spirit of enthusiasm to remedy this deplorable condition, and that the next few months will see a healthy increase in subscriptions.

Very truly yours,

Varsity and Freshman Relays Victorious at B. A. A. Meet

Accident to Hume, Dartmouth, Gives Yearling Race to Holy Cross

PURPLE BEATS MAROON

Holy Cross relay teams rule the roost among New England baton-passing combinations by virtue of their double victory at the Boston A. A. meet, held in the Boston Arena, last Saturday night. In the fastest race of the evening, the Purple was triumphant over the Maroon and Gold of Boston College, covering the mile in 3 minutes 27 1-5 seconds. The Holy Cross freshman team, aided by an accident to the Dartmouth representative, captured the yearling race from a field of six teams. Their time was 3 minutes 38 9-10 seconds.

The relay team besides doing the fastest time for the mile, clipped 3-5 of a second, and established a new record for the Boston Arena track. The record was formerly held by Georgetown. The Purple made better time than the N. Y. A. C. team, which is made up of some fast men.

The race between the Crusaders and the Eagles was one of the most hotly contested of the evening. The teams were neck and neck until the last lap, when Mulvihill's finishing sprint was too much for Higgins, the B. C. anchor man. The team from the Heights got off to a lead when Babe Daley beat Roche to the turn and opened up a small gap on the Purple lead-off man. Clever work in passing the baton cut the Maroon's lead down to a yard, and as soon as Frank Burns began to lead himself out, the Eagles' one-yard lead changed into a ten-yard advantage for the Crusaders. McCloskey made a fine effort to catch the flying Clausen, but the best he could do was to gain back four of the lost yards. Then Mulvihill took the baton for the Purple and Higgins for the Maroon. At first it looked as if Higgins was out to give Mulvihill a beating, for when the leg was only half run he was at Mulvihill's shoulder, but the Purple captain was holding something in reserve, and at the bell he sprinted, beating Higgins to the tape by a dozen yards.

Six teams, representing Holy Cross, Boston College, Dartmouth, M. I. T., Brown and Maine, made up the field for the freshman relay. From the start only the first three teams were in the running, with the other quartets dropping further and further behind. Dartmouth got off to an early lead, with Boston College and Holy Cross fighting it out for second place. Coming into the final leg, Dartmouth had a six-yard lead, but Hume, the Green anchor, fell on the second turn. He was on his feet again in an instant, but the accident permitted Handlin, Purple anchor, and Quinn of B. C., to slip by. Hume fell again in his attempt to catch the flying leaders and Handlin just beat Quinn to the tape. The victorious quartet was made up of Murphy, John Mahaney, Billy Beane and Walter Handlin.

Holy Cross athletes were not prominent in any of the other events of the evening, except the 40-yard dash, in which Jim Quinn qualified for the finals. In the trial heats, Quinn, who has been running splendidly in the short sprint, closely pressed Loren Murchison and Bayes Norton of Yale. In the final, however, the field was a bit too classy for him and he finished in sixth place.

Jim Quinn has this in his favor, that he can get a quick start, which is an advantage that many other sprint stars lack. Bart is grooming him for the 70-yard dash at the coming Intercollegiate. Here he will have a chance against the best in the East.

HOOPSTERS DEFEAT ST. JOHN'S FIVE, 35-20

Shanahan and Connors Score 25 of Purple's Points

Holy Cross won a great victory over a strong St. John's team of Brooklyn, last Wednesday night, at St. John's Gym, Worcester, by a 35 to 29 score. The game was nip and tuck throughout and only great shooting on the part of Shanahan and Connors turned the tide of victory toward the Purple. The Brooklynites had a well coached team, passed accurately and worked plays precisely, but they seemed not to have the necessary fight.

The Red and White, conquerors of Manhattan College, started off as though they were going to engulf the Crusaders. Page, their center, with about a six-inch advantage in height over Kittredge, had no trouble in getting the tap at any time of the game. This gave the visitors a better chance to work their plays, and work them they did until Shanahan began to diagnose them. Time and again he rushed in and caught the tap intended for one of the St. John's forwards. A great number of these taps that Shanahan intercepted resulted in baskets for Holy Cross. Kittredge took two of these passes under the basket and caged them. Connors dropped two in from the side and one under the basket. Shanahan passed to Connors and scored two more baskets on return passes. The first half ended with Holy Cross leading 22 to 11.

The visitors put up a great fight in the second half. Freeman and Hill ran wild on the court, but each basket they made Shanahan annulled. He scored twice on shots under the basket, once from the side of the court, and again he tallied after dribbling past two St. John's guards. As the minutes flew by, the red-jerseyed warriors, with defeat staring them in the face resorted to long shots. However, Dame Fortune refused to smile upon them and the final whistle blew as Burke scored on a sensational shot from the side of the court.

"Heim" Shanahan and "Zeke" Connors were the outstanding stars of the Purple quintet. Between them they scored twenty-five points, four less than those scored by the St. John's team. Kittredge played a fine floor game and tallied two baskets. Freeman and Hill scintillated for the visitors. The ejection of Feeney early in the second period put a crimp in the St. John's offensive. A large crowd witnessed the game.

RELAY LOSES FOR FIRST TIME

Georgetown and Syracuse Defeat Purple Four at the Millrose Games

Fifteen valuable yards, lost through poor work in passing the baton, proved too big a handicap for the Crusaders relay team, and the Crusaders received their first defeat of the season at the hands of the flying Georgetown quartet, last Thursday night, at the Millrose A. A. games in New York. Syracuse finished second, due to the fine running of Cecil Cooke, the national 440-yard champion, and Holy Cross was third. The time, 3 minutes and 23 and 9-10 seconds for the mile, was the fastest of the evening.

The start of the race saw Roche, the lead-off man for the Purple, getting off from the outside position. He was unable to keep up with the fast pace set by Frank McClain of Georgetown, and was thirty-five yards behind when he passed the baton to Mulvihill. Mulvihill, running in his best form, made up the entire distance on Jimmy Burgess, the second Georgetown runner, but in passing the baton to Tom Clausen, there was a mix-up. Clausen stumbled and lost fifteen yards which put an end to the Purple's hopes for victory. He lost no more ground during the rest of the journey, but the fifteen yards was too big a handicap for Frank Burns to overcome when pitted against two runners of the caliber of Vincent Ascher and Cecil Cooke. Nevertheless, Frank did gain on the leaders, and was only nine yards behind Ascher when the bald headed Blue and Gray anchor-man broke the tape.

The fine running of Mulvihill and Burns proves that they are more than a match for any two runners on any other college relay team, and their performance gives promise of many more relay victories, both indoors and out. Victory seems to rest with the two other members of the team, Roche and Clausen; if they can manage to keep close to the leaders, Burns and Mulvihill can be relied upon to overcome any small lead and bring the Purple home in front.

Frank Butler Appointed Golf Manager For 1926

Michael F. Fitzpatrick, S.J., moderator of athletics, has announced the appointment of Francis P. Butler, '26, of Jersey City, N. J., as manager of golf for the coming season. Due to the fact that golf is not yet a major sport, selection of the manager is not made by election, but by appointment. The choice of Mr. Butler will no doubt be a popular one as he was one of the prime movers in the organization of the Holy Cross team last year.

While the 1926 schedule has not been completed, many of the teams that were opposed by the golfers last year will be found on the schedule again this year. With the large number of veterans from last year's team remaining, and the probable addition of new men to the team, a successful year in golf can be predicted. Matches with Brown, Amherst, Harvard and Dartmouth have been tentatively arranged.

Crusaders Defeated By Strong Mass. Aggies Quintet in Fast Game

Farmer Five Thrill Alumni By Handing Purple 38-23 Reverse

SMILEY STARS FOR AGGIES

The Crusaders tasted defeat last Saturday at Amherst at the hands of the undefeated Mass. Aggie five. The game was one of the big contests for the Farmer five as Saturday was Alumni Day, and the gym was filled to capacity. The game was played in a drill shed which was very inadequate for such a contest.

The opening lineup for Holy Cross saw Shanahan and Connors as forwards, Kittredge at center, and O'Neill and Brady, backs. The Aggie five started off with a bang and before long were leading by ten points. The Purple five could not seem to get going in the first half, being able to score but once from the floor. The Aggie guards were coming up the floor scoring at will as the defense of the Crusaders was constantly being drawn out. At half-time the Crusaders held the short end of a 22-6 score.

The Purple team played a far different brand of game in the second half. In this session they outscored the Farmer five 17-15, but the lead of the Aggie five was so great that it could not be overcome. Reilly and Kittredge showed up very well for Holy Cross while Smiley, Parkenheimer and Griffin excelled for the Aggies.

The Aggie quintet is a wonderful team and should have another undefeated season. They are undoubtedly the best team that the Crusaders have faced this year, and afforded very keen opposition.

CRUSADERS WILL MEET SETON HALL AND B. U.

Seton Hall college will be the opponent of the Purple basketball team Wednesday at St. John's gym, while the Purple five will travel to the Hub to encounter Boston University on Saturday night. With Jack Reilly in good shape by Wednesday, these two games offer the Purple an opportunity to better their record.

The season thus far has rather gone against the Purple quintet with a record of six defeats and four victories up to the present, and two wins this week would even the record. Seton Hall will, however, give the Purple plenty of opposition, as they have taken the Yale quintet in tow this year and the Blue overcame the Crusaders.

Boston University will offer the Purple some stiff competition as they have defeated the Brown team, conquerors of the Purple in the Crusaders' first game of the season.

Relay Men Entered In Portland Legion Games

The Purple relay quartet, after beating the Boston College fliers to the barrier last Saturday, are due for a slight rest during this week. The next scene of endeavor, and most likely of further victory, will be the American Legion meet at Portland, next Monday night.

The Crusaders are not downcast at their loss of the Millrose race, as they made the best time of the evening at the B. A. A. meet last Saturday. Incidentally, they snipped 3-5 seconds from the Arena track record, stepping the mile in three minutes and 27 1-5 seconds. The record was formerly held by Georgetown.

The Portland meet attracts the headliners, and the relay team will have classy opposition to force them to the limit. Bart Sullivan has not decided on any other entries for this meet. Following this trip, the American Legion games at Boston on Washington's Birthday, will claim the performances of Purple stars. Bart will probably start a large field in the various events, as he did last year.

BASEBALL

Baseball! The call to the cage! Rather premature, but, nevertheless, a sweet harbinger of spring. The racket of the busy cage resounding in our ears, will herald the approach of those days that pass all too soon. The sod of Fitton will eventually feel the caress of the friendly and capable spikes. All of which leads us to the thought of what kind of baseball timber will fill those spikes. Aye, timber of all kinds, veteran and rookie, experienced and green, confident and timid will cavort on the velvet sward of Jim Freel's work of art. Prospects? Well, we admit that the departure of "Ownie" and "Doc" presents a problem, but to such perennial problems we serenely answer, "Leave it to Barry." Stars may come, and stars may go, but Jack Barry can always come through with a champ outfit. An outfield of ball-hawks, a solid infield with only a gap at the keystone sack, a strong receiving department, and a pitching corps with only one dependable slabster, sums up the pre-season inventory of our baseball fortunes. But with a wealth of eager and promising material, and plenty of time for instruction, we can watch with assurance the progress in the cage. For Jack Barry has not yet failed to lead from the confines of the cage to the springy turf of the diamond a baseball team, speaking in the real sense of baseball values, and not a group of baseball suits with nothing inside them.

INTEREST IN INITIAL INTERCLASS FRACAS

Those who were fortunate to witness the Junior-Frosh basketball game, Sunday morning, saw a game replete with the excitement, the dash, and the fighting spirit that such interclass supremacy contests engender. It is in these games that the student who fails to make the varsity grade, can give his all to his own class. When men having this fighting spirit are teamed together to uphold class honor, partisan fervor rises to white heat, and instills in fellow classmates the enthusiasm, the interest and the spirit to support, to urge and to cheer their representatives on in the wild will to win.

Such spirit was in evidence at the initial interclass league game on Sunday and because of this and the large turnout, the Senior-Soph game will be postponed until Wednesday night, so that it can be played as the preliminary game to the Varsity-Seton Hall game in St. John's Hall. This should give impetus to interclass contests and develop class spirit to the same degree of perfection that is prevalent at Notre Dame.

BART AND HIS SUCCESS

Chalk up another strike for Bart Sullivan! We are all cognizant of his unexpected feat of producing a champion relay team, although he was confronted with the serious loss of such stars as Tierney, Larrivee and Higgins. Yet this accomplishment did not cease Bart's pursuit of track success, and the building of a well balanced aggregation of cinder stars. He is now staging a coming-out party for the debut of a very promising sprinter, Jim Quinn. Jim is another of the proteges whom Bart has developed and trained to take his place among the aristocracy of sprint champions. And now, this newcomer is holding his own with the best of them, and gives encouragement of vast improvement, which thus early marks Bart's endeavor as a success. Holy Cross has been shy of good sprinters for several years. Carroll was the last good man, and even Charley couldn't equal the present performances of Quinn. The days of Andy Kelly and Joe Higgins are to be resurrected by the latest stroke of Bart's genius.

Running practically his first dash under Purple colors, Quinn was pitted against the speediest men in the East, when he toed the mark at the Casey games ten days ago. He qualified in his heat for the final 40-yard dash. In his first big race he found Houben, the German sprint champion, and conqueror of Paddock and Murchison, toeing the mark beside him. Others who crouched tensely, waiting for the blast of the gun were Al Miller, the Harvard streak, Tony Plansky, the Georgetown Mercury, and Frank Hussey, the B. C. flier. Facing such a stiff test, the training of Bart Sullivan and his own courage stood by him well. He tied with Houben for fourth place. Last Saturday, in the B. A. A. meet, he was close on the heels of Loren Murchison, the king of indoor sprinters, and in the same heat came in ahead of Bayes Norton of Yale.

So thus we view with unbounded pleasure the rise of another Purple athlete, and another confirmation of Bart Sullivan's ability as an all-around track coach. The freshman relay team is another product of Bart's, and have showed their heels to the freshman teams of Harvard, B. C., Dartmouth, Maine, M. I. T., Tufts, and Brown. They look as if they will sweep the entire field in the Intercollegiate at New York on March 6.

So here's to Bart Sullivan, who grows champs where none grew before, and whose interest is Holy Cross' success on track and field. A man whose record, both past and present, shows that he deserves the highest praise we can give him.

FROSH BASKETBALL

Next Saturday, the Frosh five will travel with dubious prospects of victory, to Storrs, Conn., to meet the fast Connecticut Aggie freshmen. Although the Purple cubs have good material they have not been able to thrive because of lack of team practice. Team work has been a negative quantity, undoubtedly due to lack of coach and proper facilities for daily practice. Just now baseball practice is taking frosh basketballers into camp to such an extent that the only time they team up is on the opponents' floor. Until Freshman basketball is put on a real coaching basis, Frosh quintets are only get-together affairs in which the Purple colors seem doomed to be lowered.

If we are going to have Freshman basketball teams, let them have the coach, the time to practice, and the proper schedule to function as the best possible representatives the college can produce in Freshman basketball.

THIRTY-SIX REPORT FOR BATTERY PRACTICE

Twenty-Six Pitchers and Ten Catchers Working Out in Baseball Cage

Practice in the cage, the forerunner of days in the open when the crack of the willow will resound again on Fitton Field, began last Wednesday. Coach Jack Barry started on the stupendous task of selecting a hurler to fill the vacancy made by the graduation of Ownie Carroll. At present, it looks as though Jim Davidson, who pitched a fine brand of ball last season, will be called upon to shoulder the bulk of the pitching burden.

Twenty-six hurlers and eleven catchers reported for the practice session. Coach Barry found it necessary to divide the squad into sections. Each division has a certain time to report for practice. The full squad will most likely be retained until the weather permits practice outdoors. Bill Glennon and Arthur Ray will probably be held to assist Davidson. Both are experienced twirlers, and this should give them an advantage over the newcomers.

Those of the newcomers that showed up well in the early days of practice are "Red" Walker, lanky right hander from Catasauqua, Pa., High; Ray Dobbins, from Nashua, N. H.; "Lefty" Duggan from Cathedral High, Cleveland; Don Healy from St. Aloysius Academy, Rome, N. Y.; Tom Tunney, from Worcester; Ed Mooney, from St. Peter's Prep, Jersey City, and Doc Ryan, from Worcester. These appeared to have more ability than the others, although some have not really started. However, only time will bring out their real worth.

The backstops that reported for practice are Alki Whelan of South High, Worcester; Eddie Doherty, battery mate of Ownie Carroll last year; Dick Phelan of Goddard Seminary, Medford, Mass.; T. Padden of Cathedral High, Manchester; McMahon of Christian Brothers Academy, Albany; Regan of Commerce High, Worcester; Pickett of New Haven High; Murphy of Cathedral High, Albany, and Feeley of Worcester. Of these, Whelan and Phelan seem apt to give Eddie Doherty a run for the position.

Junior Quintet Bows To Frosh In First of Interclass Basketball Series

Juniors Unable to Overcome Big Lead of Freshmen—
Score 19 to 16

The interclass basketball series started off with a bang last Sunday morning when the Juniors, coached by Billy Wise, and Freshmen clashed in the gym. All the keen rivalry and din and noise of the excited rooters was present at the first interclass game of the year.

The Juniors were the favorites, but the Freshmen produced a team with a decided "kick." The pace was red hot throughout the struggle, and was nip and tuck until the third quarter when the Frosh forged from behind to a five-point lead. Try as they might the Juniors could reduce the lead by only a single basket.

Shields started the scoring by hooping one from underneath the basket after a lively scrimmage of two minutes. Soon after W. Kelly sunk a foul shot. Foley put the Frosh in the van by a neat basket from the side. Wallace erased this lead by soon caging another. The quarter ended with the Juniors leading 4-3.

The battle was becoming rough. Each side showed an inclination to play the man instead of the ball. However the passwork was worth watching, the Freshmen excelling the Juniors, who frequently lost the ball on long passes. While the floorwork was not smooth in either case, the close score, the body checking and long shots kept the partisan fervor at high pitch.

In the second quarter the Juniors increased their lead to three points. Cunningham hooped one from the middle of the court. Jack Kelly duplicated the stunt, and Cunningham chalked up another from underneath the basket. Brodhead contributed two baskets for the Freshmen.

In the third quarter the Freshmen sprang into a five point lead. While Jack Kelly caged one for the Juniors, Foley sank two and Kelly dented the draperies on three long shots for the Freshmen.

The Juniors tried hard as they saw the game slipping from their grasp, and tried long shots from random. Cunningham arched one from long distance that dropped through cleanly, while Shields tossed in the final marker on a neat pass from Hathaway.

MUSICAL CLUBS TO GIVE SUNDAY RECITALS IN LENT

Planned for the Entertainment of Students and Their Friends

DIEDERICH, '28, IS LEADER

A series of musicales will be given every Sunday afternoon during Lent, at four o'clock in Fenwick Hall, beginning February 21, with the exception of one Sunday, March 7, when the Musical Clubs have an engagement in Brockton, Mass. These informal concerts will be free to all who care to attend, whether students or guests. The artists will all be members of the Holy Cross Musical Clubs and will be under the direction of Paul B. Diederich, '28.

The programs, a sample of which appears below, will be presented by different groups chosen from the Musical Clubs' orchestra and will include the string ensemble, a septette, the string quartette and trio, violin and 'cello solos, a string orchestra of about sixteen violins, 'cellos and bass, a little symphony, and probably a vocal chorus from the Glee Club.

The whole idea is patterned after the concerts now being given every second Sunday at the Worcester Art Museum. It received its first impetus when Prof. J. Edward Bouvier formed a group of six violins and two 'cellos for broadcasting work early in the year. The enthusiastic response with which their efforts were received encouraged the members to form other groups so that now they are able to handle full-length programs of chamber-music.

The entire credit for the present work is due to Paul B. Diederich, '28, the violin soloist of the Musical Clubs, to whom due acknowledgment must be given for planning and bringing this plan to a successful completion.

When interviewed about the forthcoming concerts, Mr. Diederich said, in part: "They (the concerts) will be quiet, informal affairs, not too ambitious. We have no intention of uplifting the musical taste of the college, but merely assume that our audience will be able to appreciate anything we are able to play. The concerts are only to fill in the dull winter months when the weather makes outdoors disagreeable, and there is nothing else to do. All the other college organizations contribute to the amusement of the college, and we feel that it is about time that the Musical Clubs did something along this line."

The following tentative program for the first concert, February 21, gives an idea of the type of music to be presented:

Edgar C. Raine Talks on Alaska

Authority on Alaska Shows Beauty of the Northern Country By Slides

A small, but appreciative audience heard Edgar C. Raine who spoke on "Alaska, the Frontier Wonderland of the World," last Thursday. Mr. Raine, who is an authority on Alaska, having spent twenty-six years there as a representative of the United States government, was able to give his listeners a clear and concise description of this great territory. The lecturer supplemented his talk with a series of 150 colored slides which did much toward bringing out the wonders and great beauties of the country.

Mr. Raine opened his talk with a short history of Alaska and its purchase by the United States. Then by means of the slides, he took the audience on a journey 1000 miles in length, from Seattle, Wash., up through British Columbia, Yukon territory into Alaska proper. Views of the wondrous scenery to be observed on this trip and also views of the most important cities en route, including Juneau, the capital, Skagway and Dawson City, were shown.

The remainder of the lecture, he devoted to diversified views of various parts of the country. Mr. Raine gave a detailed account of the most important industries, and the method pursued in modern gold mining, from the time of discovery till the gold is finally obtained. He also explained the seal and the salmon industries which are very extensive.

During the course of lecture, Mr. Raine related many stories of Alaskan characters and also told of personal experiences which he had undergone during his many years in the North.

CONTEST FOR NEW GYM IDEAS CLOSES FEB. 15

As was previously announced, a contest is being held in which all students are invited to submit their ideas and suggestions concerning the proposed new gymnasium and clubhouse. Since the contest closes on next Monday, February 15, all who desire to compete for the prizes offered, namely $25 for first, $15 for second, and $10 for third, should devote their attention to the matter at once. Many students having good suggestions to make may feel that their lack of ability to make sketches excludes them from competition. However, this is not the case, since something in the form of an essay will be suitable. With this in mind, there is no reason why anyone who has ideas on the subject should hesitate to put them in writing and enter them in this contest. They should be submitted at the Office of the Dean on or before February 15.
